Financial Fitness Now Leads to a Healthy Retirement

Make sure your financial house is in order to maximize your savings and effectively plan for retirement.

1. Set Up a Spending Plan

- » Project your current income and your expenses.
- » Track your earnings and spending.
- » Compare your actual with your projected income and expenses each month.
- » Make adjustments; don't spend more than you earn.

2. Build Up Savings

- » Pay yourself first.
- » Save for emergencies.
- » Save for large expenses, including a car, house, education, and retirement.

3. Manage Debt

- » Limit your debt; don't spend more than you earn.
  - › Good debt: home, education
  - › Bad debt: credit card, title loans
- » Consider using a debt reduction method like the snowball or avalanche method to eliminate your debts.

4. Be Properly Insured

- » Depending on your personal circumstances, individuals should consider life insurance to properly provide for your beneficiaries in case you unexpectedly pass away.

Snowball Method

Pay off the smallest debts first. After the smallest debt is repaid, the money that was used to pay smaller debts is then applied toward the next larger debt, until all debts are paid off.

Avalanche Method

Pay off the highest interest rate debt first. After the higher interest debt is repaid, the money that was used to pay higher interest debt is then applied to the next lower interest rate debt, until all debts are paid off.

Time is Money

The Cost of Losing 10 Years of Saving

How Much Should You Save?

Depending on your age, your retirement income replacement goal, and any existing retirement savings the amount you should save may vary. Conventional wisdom suggests an overall savings rate of 15-20% of your gross income. However, your rate may differ based on your needs. If you want a recommendation for your specific situation, you can sign up online for an individual retirement planning session through your myURS account.

You don't have to reach that goal all at once (though the more you can start with, the better!). Start with 1% this year, and then add another 1% every year for the next few years. You'll reach your goal in no time.

Are you on track to reach YOUR savings rate?

If not what steps can you take to enhance your personal retirement savings rate?

	Example	You
Goal:	20%	Goal: _____
1. Record your current savings percentage.	5%	_____
2. What is your employer contributing?	10%	_____
3. Total	15%	_____
4. Do you need to change your savings percentage? If so how much do you plan to save?	Yes, 1% more each year for the next 5 years to reach a 20% total savings rate.	_____

How Much Could You Have?

Estimate how much retirement savings you may have by using the Savings Plans Future Values Calculator at www.urs.org/Calculators/. Fill in the blanks below to track your current savings:

Current total balances (401(k), 457, IRAs)
Monthly gross wages: (annual gross income ÷12)
Projected average annual increase in wages (as a percent)
Your monthly contributions (% of gross wages)
Employer contributions (% of gross wages)	10% (Public Employee) or 14% (Public Safety/Firefighter)
Estimated years of future contributions
Rate of return you expect to receive while working	7% default
Number of years you would like to receive monthly withdrawals (How many years will you live after retirement?)
Rate of return you expect during withdrawals (retirement)	4% default
Average rate of inflation you expect	2.5% default
Future balance
Monthly withdrawal from future balance
Monthly withdrawal from balance adjusted for inflation

This information is designed to help you create an estimate of what you may receive in retirement benefits from your retirement savings account. Please note that the estimate will be based on the information you input and will only be as accurate as the information that you provide.

Stay the Course

Even through the ups and downs in the financial markets it is best to stay the course. Historically, many events have resulted in down turns in the economy. However, investors who have stayed the course through the ups and downs tend to do better in the long-term.

Rule of 72

As you stay the course and continue to invest your money, it is amazing how quickly your money can double. A general rule of thumb to tell you how long it will take for your money to double is the Rule of 72. The formula for the Rule of 72 is:

$$\frac{72}{\text{Rate of Return}} = \text{Years to Double}$$

For example, if you were to begin with $1,000 and let compound interest do the work:

Rate of Return	3%	5%	7%
Years to Double	24 years - $2,000	14 years = $2,000 28 years = $4,000	10 years = $2,000 20 years = $4,000 30 years = $8,000
		42 years = $8,000	40 years = $16,000
		54 years = $16,000	50 years = $32,000

Diversification

In creating your investment portfolio you want to make sure you have a good mixture of different types of investments.

As illustrated below, you can see asset classes within the Core Investment Fund options that URS offers. The funds earned higher returns some years and experienced lower returns other years. For example, the International Fund, made up of global stocks, over the course of the past 10 years showed incredible growth in 2007, 2009 and 2012. However, it had lower growth in other years. Ultimately, the fund generated 0.1% over a 10-year period.

Now, if you look at the Balanced Fund, which includes 60% stocks and 40% bonds, it had mid-level performance every year. It never was the highest performer, nor was it the lowest. Ultimately, the fund generated 6.9% growth over a 10-year period.

	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	Average
Large Cap Growth Fund	13.0%	9.0%	23.3%	33.2%	2.2%	32.3%	51.8%	31.6%	1.9%	52.2%	13.7%
Large Cap Stock Index Fund	11.8%	1.6%	21.2%	27.6%	0.0%	31.2%	22.9%	30.4%	-7.3%	26.4%	11.6%
Large Cap Value Fund	10.3%	1.3%	11.8%	21.4%	-0.9%	24.8%	20.9%	26.2%	-10.8%	23.4%	10.4%
Balance Fund	9.0%	0.8%	9.3%	18.2%	-1.8%	21.6%	11.3%	9.2%	-13.7%	17.5%	8.9%
Small Cap Fund	5.9%	-0.3%	5.9%	17.1%	-5.0%	21.6%	11.0%	14.9%	-16.2%	17.5%	7.9%
International Fund	4.3%	-3.4%	4.4%	11.4%	-7.1%	20.2%	10.5%	8.3%	-19.0%	15.4%	4.0%
Bond Fund	1.6%	-4.6%	1.6%	4.6%	-13.3%	9.6%	7.1%	1.6%	-19.2%	7.7%	3.0%
Income Fund	-3.9%	-4.6%	1.2%	1.7%	-14.5%	2.6%	2.2%	-1.0%	-39.0%	2.9%	1.9%

It is recommended that you have an appropriate mix of investments to ensure you will have steady growth, while minimizing potential losses in the markets.

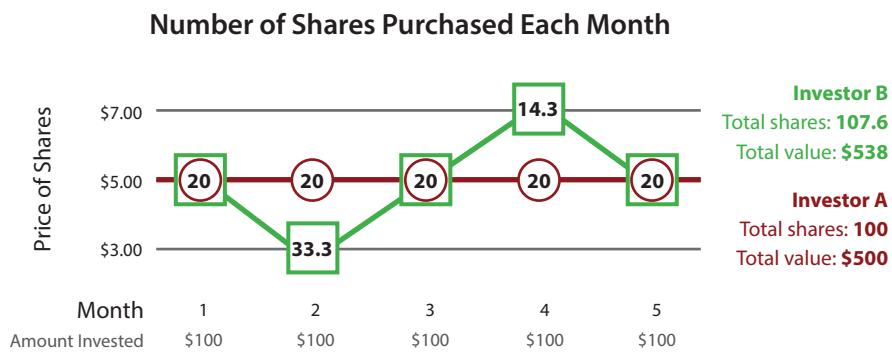

The URS Target Date Funds serve this same purpose by offering a diverse mix of stocks, real assets, and bonds to allow for growth while attempting to minimize losses.

Dollar Cost Averaging

Dollar cost averaging (DCA) simply means investing the same dollar amount in a retirement account, pay period after pay period, regardless of how the financial markets are performing. It looks like this:

Dollar Cost Averaging

Example

If you purchase $100 worth of shares every month at $5 per share (the investment never changes value), you would have 100 shares five months later. Your account value would be $500.

If instead you purchase $100 worth of shares and the investment fluctuates as shown above, you end up with almost 108 shares worth $5 each after five months. This DCA account value is worth about $540, which is $40 more! The DCA account is worth an extra 8%, merely because it purchased more shares in Month 2—automatically through payroll deduction—when the investment was down in value (aka “on sale!”).

Investing is simply a race to collect shares. When an investment is on sale (the market is down), you buy more shares with a constant dollar amount invested (such as through payroll deduction). When the investment/market rebounds, your shares are worth more. More shares at a higher value means a larger retirement account. What ultimately matters is how many shares you have, and how much they have grown in value by the time you reach retirement!

How Should You Invest?

How you invest your money is crucial to the overall performance of your retirement accounts. It is important to make sure you have diversified your investment portfolio properly to maximize your earnings while minimizing your losses.

The longer you have until retirement, the more aggressively you can invest a larger portion of your portfolio in stocks. Stocks will give your portfolio more potential for long-term growth. However, there may be more short-term volatility.

If you have less time until retirement, consider investing in lower risk investments, such as bonds. This approach helps to preserve your retirement savings.

However, everyone's situation is going to be different. Your current age, life expectancy, income, retirement goals, and risk aversion will determine how you will invest your retirement savings.

Date of Retirement

Tax Smart Strategies

Distributions from nearly all retirement resources (pension, Social Security, 401k, IRA, etc.) are taxable, so be careful not to take so much in a single calendar year that you end up in a higher tax bracket. The one exception could be tax-free Roth IRA withdrawals (assuming you meet the requirements).

On the flip side, if you're in a lower tax bracket in a particular year, it may make sense to fill up that year's "tax bracket bucket." Take out just enough money from your non-Roth accounts to keep yourself in your current, lower tax bracket; doing so locks in your tax bracket for that money.

What if you don't really need the money but could still fill up a lower tax bucket? Consider doing a Roth conversion. You'll pay income tax on the amount converted, but you create the potential to avoid any future income taxation on the earnings you convert.

The Full Retirement Age Is Increasing

Full retirement age (also called "normal retirement age") had been 65 for many years. However, beginning with people born in 1938 or later, that age gradually increases until it reaches 67 for people born after 1959.

The 1983 Social Security Amendments included a provision for raising the full retirement age beginning with people born in 1938 or later. The Congress cited improvements in the health of older people and increases in average life expectancy as primary reasons for increasing the normal retirement age.

Note: If you were born on January 1st of any year you should refer to the previous year.

2 How Much Will You Receive?

» Use the Retirement Estimator.

The Retirement Estimator gives estimates based on your actual Social Security earnings record. Please keep in mind that these are just estimates. We can't provide your actual benefit amount until you apply for benefits. And that amount may differ from the estimates provided because:

- Your earnings may increase or decrease in the future.
- After you start receiving benefits, they will be adjusted for cost-of-living increases.
- Your estimated benefits are based on current law. The law governing benefit amounts may change because, by 2033, the payroll taxes collected will be enough to pay only about 77 cents for each dollar of scheduled benefits.
- Your benefit amount may be affected by military service, railroad employment or pensions earned through work on which you did not pay Social Security tax.

Who Can Use the Retirement Estimator

You can use the Retirement Estimator if:

- You have enough Social Security credits at this time to qualify for benefits and
- You are not:
  - Currently receiving benefits on your own Social Security record;
  - Waiting for a decision about your application for benefits or Medicare;
  - Age 62 or older and receiving benefits on another Social Security record; or

Your Retirement Guide

Securing today
and tomorrow

What's the best age to retire? It depends! Consider some of these important factors below to help you decide when to start your Social Security benefits.

Step 1: Review Your Earnings History

Your monthly benefit amount is based on your highest 35 years of earnings. Find your earnings history by reading your Social Security Statement at www.ssa.gov/myaccount

Step 2: Find Your Full Retirement Age

Full Retirement Age (FRA) is the age you need to be to have no reduction in your monthly benefit amount. FRA is based on the year you were born.

Find your FRA at:
www.ssa.gov/planners/retire/ageincrease.html

Step 3: Know Your Options

If eligible, you can start your benefit anywhere from age 62 – 70.
The longer you wait, the more you will get.

If you're eligible for both your own benefits and spouses benefits, you must apply for both. You'll get a combination of benefits equaling the higher benefit.

If you're eligible for widow(er) benefits, you can select to start your own benefit, or file from your deceased spouses' account if eligible.

Once you start your benefit, you are locked in to that benefit amount.

Get your retirement estimates at:
www.ssa.gov/onlineservices

Step 4: Consider Other Things That Could Affect Your Monthly Benefit Amount

Benefits may be temporarily reduced if you are working and receiving benefits before FRA.

In some cases, you may have to pay taxes on your Social Security benefit amount.

If you worked for a job not covered by Social Security, your monthly benefit amount may be reduced.

You should sign up for Medicare three months before age 65, even if you don't plan to retire.
For more information, visit:
https://www.ssa.gov/benefits/medicare/

Take into account your longevity and health.

Find the average life expectancy for someone your age at:
www.ssa.gov/planners/lifeexpectancy.html

Step 5: File for Your Benefits

You can apply up to four months before the date you want your benefits to start.
Visit www.ssa.gov/retire to apply.

Life Insurance and Your Money

An Important Part of Your Financial Plan » Even the most well-thought-out plan could fall through if something were to happen to you, leaving your family without the income they need.

How Much Life Insurance Should I Consider?

First, consider having enough for your family to cover such things as outstanding expenses, e.g., mortgage, debt, credit cards, and funeral expenses. Second, figure how much income replacement they would need. One common rule of thumb says your life insurance coverage should equal seven to 10 times your annual salary, but every situation is different. Many online calculators can help you figure out how much you need.

Life Events

It's particularly important to review your life insurance coverage when you get married, have a child, or experience some other significant life event, like buying a new home.

What Does My Employer Offer?

Employers generally offer term life insurance. In many cases, your employer provides a certain amount of coverage for you with the option to buy more for yourself, your spouse, and dependent children, either with or without medical underwriting, depending on when and how much coverage you request. Unlike other types of insurance, you can typically request more coverage at anytime and not just during open enrollment. This coverage lasts only as long as your employment, during which time your health status can change along with your ability to qualify for a new policy.

URS Death Benefit

As a URS member, you may be entitled to a death benefit. The amount this benefit pays your beneficiaries varies among retirement systems. For more information, go to www.urs.org.

If your employer offers PEHP Life, you can apply to increase your coverages at any time, not just during open enrollment. Go to www.pehp.org or call 801-366-7495.

How Tax-Deferred Saving Works

Investing with before-tax dollars today lowers your adjusted gross income and therefore lowers the amount you pay in taxes.

Example

If you make $40,000 and contribute as little as $100 a month, you can save $204 on your annual taxes.

Paycheck	No Deposit	Tax-Deferred Deposit
Gross Income	$3,333	$3,333
401(k) Deposit	—	100
Taxable Income	3,333	3,233
Federal Income Tax	400	388
State Income Tax	167	162
Net Paycheck	$2,766	$2,683	difference = $83

It only “cost” $83 to save $100 in a tax-deferred program!

Year	No Deposit	Tax-Deferred Deposit
Gross Income	$40,000	$40,000
401(k) Deposit	—	1,200
Taxable Income	40,000	38,800
Total Income Tax	6,800	6,596
Net Paycheck	$33,200	$32,204	difference = $996

Total tax savings of $204!

This example is based upon a federal tax rate of 12%, and a state tax rate of 5%.

Savers' Tax Credit

- » Tax credit of up to 50% on first $2,000 ($4,000 if married filing jointly) saved
- » Applied to federal taxes
- » Based on AGI (Adjusted Gross Income)

Credit Rate %	Married Filing Jointly	Head of Household	Single, Married Filing Separately or Qualifying Widow(er)
50%	Up to $47,500	Up to $35,625	Up to $23,750
20%	$47,501–$51,000	$35,626–$38,250	$23,751–$25,500
10%	$51,001–$79,000	$38,251–$59,250	$25,501–$39,500
No Credit	Over $79,000	Over $59,250	Over $39,500

Tax Credit Example

Sue and Bob are married filing jointly

Gross income of ..... $62,000

Sue's 401(k) deposit ..... $2,000

Bob's traditional IRA deposit ..... $2,000

Adjusted gross income ..... $58,000

Sue and Bob are each entitled to a 10% tax credit.

Sue's tax credit

$$2,000 \times 10\% = $200$

Bob's tax credit

$$2,000 \times 10\% = $200$

Their total tax credit is $400.

URS Target Date Funds

Diversified Portfolio

URS Target Date Funds provide a diversified retirement portfolio through a single investment option. These funds gradually adjust throughout your career and into retirement. The investment mix — which includes stocks, bonds, and real assets — gradually and automatically shifts toward more conservative investments as you age and enter retirement.

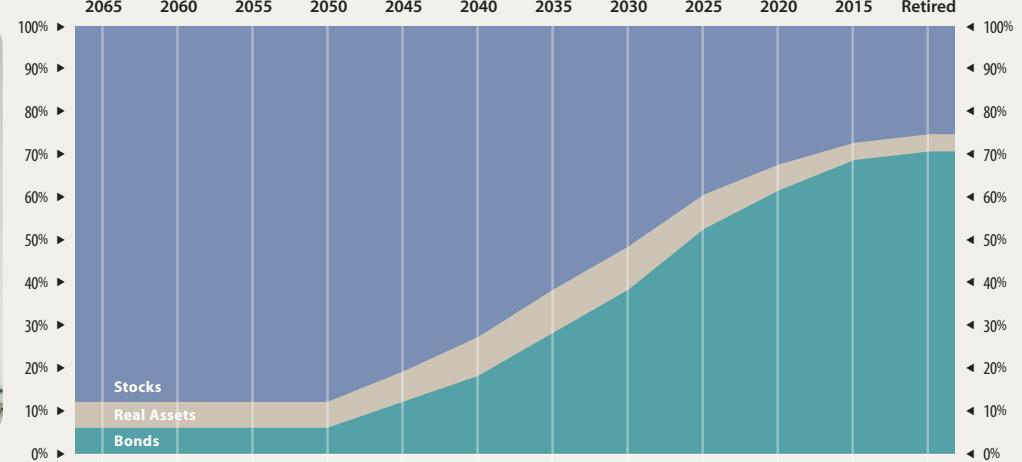

Consider the Target Date Fund with the date closest to when you will start withdrawing funds for retirement. For example: If you're a younger employee and plan to leave the workforce and begin withdrawals around the year 2055, consider the Target Date 2055 Fund. If you're further along in your career and will begin utilizing your account close to the year 2030, consider the Target Date 2030 Fund.

Target Date Funds Asset Allocation

The asset allocation chart below shows the current breakdown of each Target Date Fund. Some of the asset classes are made up of the URS individual investment options (URS Income Fund, URS Bond Fund, URS Large Cap Stock Index Fund, URS International Fund, URS Small Cap Stock Fund) while others are exclusive to Target Date Funds (International Bonds, Global Inflation-Linked Bonds, Private Real Estate).

Maintain Your Account

Periodically review your account to make sure it is still in line with your goals. Here are a few questions to ask yourself when reviewing your account:

- » Has my timeline to retirement changed?
- » Are my investments still appropriate for my age and risk tolerance?
- » Have I had a major life event (marriage, divorce, career change, change in income)?
- » Can I afford to contribute more to my retirement?

Make changes to your investments or personal contributions at myURS at www.urs.org or by submitting a Contribution and Investment Change Agreement.

Trading Policy

You may submit one transfer request (whether electronically, by fax, mail, or hand delivered) for your vested core fund balances every seven days. This applies separately — the 401(k), 457(b), Roth IRA, and Traditional IRA each constitutes a separate plan. If you transfer any or all of your current accounts more often than once every 30 days, you will be charged a 2% fee on amounts transferred. Each transfer, after being processed, will start a new 30-day period. The fees generated by this policy are used to reduce the administrative expenses for all plan participants.

Changes to the investment allocation of future deposits and future contribution amounts are allowed as often as daily.

Transfer Policy

Investment changes received at URS before the close of the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE), generally 2 p.m. Mountain Time, are transferred using that evening's closing market values. Requests received after the close of the NYSE are transferred using the next business day's closing market values. On days of unusually heavy transfer activity, computer system failure or other unforeseen circumstances, URS reserves the right to process transfers using the next available business day's closing market values. Changing your future investment allocation or your contribution amounts are allowed as often as daily. Transfers to or from a PCRA are allowed once every seven calendar days. PCRA transfers must be requested at www.urs.org.

Five Questions to Ask Before You Invest

1. Is the seller licensed?

Smart investors check the background of anyone promoting an investment opportunity.

2. Is the investment registered?

Registration provides access to key information about the company and its finances.

3. Do I understand the investment?

Read, ask, and then verify. If you are still confused about the product, think twice about investing.

4. Do the risks compare with the rewards?

Greater rewards come with greater risk.

Promises of high returns with little or no risk may be fraud.

5. Where can I receive help?

When it comes to investing wisely, unbiased information can be a great advantage.

Ordering Rules

The order in which Roth IRA assets are deemed to be withdrawn. The first assets withdrawn will be considered to be a return of contributions made. After contributions are withdrawn, further withdrawals will be amounts that have been converted from a traditional IRA. Finally, the earnings will be considered withdrawn.

Penalty-Free Withdrawal

A withdrawal exempt from the 10% early withdrawal penalty tax. Exceptions include: purchase of a first home, qualified education expenses, qualifying medical expenses, health insurance premiums when unemployed, payments paid over the owner's life expectancy, disability, or payments to a beneficiary.

Pension Plan

A retirement plan organized to receive contributions and pay a lifetime monthly benefit when the participant retires.

Portfolio

The total investment holdings of an individual or the total investment holdings of a mutual fund.

Premature Distribution

Distributions taken from a traditional or Roth IRA before the account owner is age 59½. Premature distributions are usually subject to a 10% early withdrawal penalty tax, unless an exception applies.

Principal

The amount originally invested.

Prior-Year Contribution

A contribution made to a Roth or traditional IRA between January 1 and April 15 for the prior tax year.

Qualified Roth Distribution

A distribution from a Roth IRA that meets the 5-year holding period requirement and the taxpayer is over age 59½.

Qualified Higher Education Expenses

Expenses such as tuition, fees, books, and supplies at an eligible higher education institution. These expenses include those of the IRA owner, spouse, children, or grandchildren. These expenses are exempt from the 10% early withdrawal penalty tax.

Qualified Retirement Plan

A qualified retirement plan is one that has been approved by the IRS and generally gets preferential tax treatment.

Qualifying Medical Expenses

Unreimbursed medical expenses, in excess of 7.5% of adjusted gross income distributed from an IRA, are exempt from the 10% early withdrawal penalty tax.

Rebalancing

The process of restoring a portfolio to its target mix by periodically buying or selling some of each investment option. The Balanced Fund and the Target Date Funds are automatically rebalanced quarterly, when target ranges are exceeded.

Recharacterization

A choice to treat a contribution made to one type of IRA as having been made to a different type of IRA (e.g., from a traditional IRA to a Roth IRA or vice versa).

Required Minimum Distribution

After a Traditional IRA holder reaches 73 or a 401(k), 403(b), 457 plan participant reaches age 73 and terminates employment, a minimum amount must be withdrawn every year.

Rollover IRA

A traditional IRA that receives assets from an eligible plan withdrawal.

Roth IRA

A tax-deferred retirement account that allows annual nondeductible contributions. Qualified distributions from a Roth IRA may be tax-free.

Security

An asset (usually intangible) such as a share of stock or mutual fund.

Short-Term

Investments usually held for under five years, although long-term and short-term have no firm boundaries. May include treasury notes, CDs, money market accounts, etc.

Stock

A security that represents an ownership share in a corporation. Stockholders participate in the company's financial direction for better or worse; also known as equities.

Tax Deferral

Postponing payment of income taxes on retirement contributions and any subsequent earnings until the money is withdrawn.

Traditional IRA

A tax-deferred retirement account that allows voluntary contributions that may be deductible on an individual's income taxes. Withdrawals from a traditional IRA will be partially or fully taxable when withdrawn.

Variable Annuities

An investment contract with an insurance company where the rate of return varies based on the performance of selected securities. Reduced access to investor money without penalties, higher fees, and complexity of contracts are concerns to consider.

Volatility

The height and depth between which an investment's value may fluctuate and how frequently. Volatility is a chief element of risk. Investments with greater potential returns are usually more volatile and therefore more risky.

Yield

The annualized rate at which an investment earns income. Usually refers to fixed income. Not the same as total return. A bond may continue to yield 8% even as its value drops.
